

HARD WORK TO ENFORCE GAME LAWS

Warden Who Was Doing His Duty and Is Known Here, Arrested in Adair

(By Associated Press)
Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 14.—Sixty-three arrests for violation of the Kentucky Fish and Game law, with 59 convictions, was the record of the game warden throughout the state during October and November, according to Maj. C. J. Meredith, superintendent of warden of the State Fish and Game Commission. Thirty-two of the arrests and 29 convictions were obtained by volunteer wardens, who are assisting the department in its efforts to conserve the fish and game of the state.

One of the bitterest fights in the history of Kentucky is being waged continuously by the Fish and Game Commission in its efforts to conserve the fish and game of the state, says Secretary John Dillon, of the commission. In some sections the efforts to enforce the conservation laws are being fought by even the judges of the courts, he said.

Strenuous efforts have been made to enforce the laws in every part of the state but with little effect in some, according to the secretary. In Owsley county, for instance, he said that only two hunting licenses had been issued up to Dec. 1st.

"Owsley county has not had a game warden for more than two years," said the secretary. "We have been unable to get anyone who would make arrests since Warden Roberts was killed from ambush as a result of his activities among the mountaineers."

Mr. Dillon told of a fight being waged in Adair county. Warden S. J. Embury, of Stanford, caught several men hunting out of season in September, 1919. All except one escaped at the time but later were arrested and pleaded guilty.

In July these men obtained an indictment against the warden on charges of trespass and breach of the peace. He was freed of the trespass charge but was found guilty and fined $50 and costs on the other.

An attempt is now being made to have Mr. Embury indicted on a charge of perjury growing out of his last trial, according to a letter written to the commission by K. S. Alcorn, a Stanford attorney who was retained to defend the warden. The judge who heard the case, Mr. Alcorn wrote the commission, advised the attorney to have his client plead guilty to the charge of breach of the peace, declaring that if he took the stand in his own behalf, he would be indicted for false swearing. Embury refused to plead guilty.

In the case of a man at Campbellsville who buys and sells gray foxes, which, according to Mr. Dillon, is contrary to the Kentucky law, the man was freed and a fox given back to him by the county judge, after a game warden had caused his arrest.

BAR ALIENS A YEAR
(By Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 13.—Last minute attempts by House leaders to restore to the Johnson immigration bill the clause restricting immigration for two years, failed today, the House approving by a vote of 181 to 165 the Mann amendment limiting the barring of aliens to one year.

The House a little later passed the bill with a clause prohibiting immigration for one year by a vote of 290 to 41. It now goes to the Senate, where, Senate leaders predict it will be defeated.

Big Hill Bootlegger Anxious For Freedom
Jim Hignite, who is said to have done a thriving business in the way of illegal liquor selling in the vicinity of Big Hill before caught by Federal agents, will soon complete his sentence at the county jail, and stated candidly that he would be "mighty glad when it was over." Hignite is used to the open, and his confinement is telling on him. He is an inveterate smoker, however, and seems to be enjoying additional pleasure in his pipe, his one inseparable companion.

Cattle prices continue to cause apprehension upon the part of those who have them to sell, was the statement of Tilden Parrish, upon returning from Cincinnati where he took a carload which he sold at $8 a hundred pounds. He said there is no stability about the market now.

WHY TOBACCO IS SELLING LOW NOW

Is Told By Federal Trade Commission In Report To Congress After Investigation
(By Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 14.—The purchasing methods of the large buyers as well as financial conditions due to unfavorable foreign exchange rates, and the contraction of domestic credits are held responsible for low tobacco prices in a special report sent to congress by the Federal Trade Commission today. The following recommendations are made:

"Establishment by the Department of Agriculture under the warehouse act of a federal system of grading leaf tobacco; revival in permanent form of expired provisions relating to the use of common agencies in the purchase of leaf tobacco and specific prohibition of leaf tobacco purchases through agencies not disclosed to the trade.

The investigation was prompted by complaints from growers in Kentucky, Tennessee and Ohio at the low 1920 prices for leaf tobacco. It was alleged that the buyers for the big companies would not bid against each other but would "rotate" in buying.

GARAGE BURNED; AUTO DESTROYED

The garage at the home of George Vermillion, one mile west of Ford, was destroyed by fire late Monday night, an automobile belonging to Mr. Vermillion being burned as well as other contents of the building. It is understood that there was no insurance on any of the property destroyed. Mr. Vermillion does not know the origin of the fire. The wind was blowing a gale at the time and thus fanned the flames made short work of everything in reach. A report reached Richmond that the town of Ford was on fire, but the flames did not reach other buildings on the Vermillion farm.

ROOT FAILED TO CHANGE HARDING

Marion, O., Dec. 14.—President-elect Warren G. Harding today discussed the problems of his administration with Elihu Root, a former secretary of State and one of the most notable of the nation's elder statesmen.

International relations and the prospects for an acceptable world peace association held the center of attention in their four-hour talk, Mr. Harding drawing exhaustively on the recent experience abroad in the formation of a world court under the Versailles league.

The President-elect asked many questions about details of the court and about the present attitude of European statesmen toward the league.

What advice Mr. Root gave with regard to reservations or the frame-work of the league was not revealed, nor would either comment on the results of the conference except to say that no conclusions had been reached. It was indicated that Mr. Harding was attempting to form no opinion for the present, but was content to gather information and advice.

After his talk with the President-elect, Mr. Root would make no comment except to say that the interview had been "very delightful and interesting."

MADISON GIRLS MODEL BOYS WON

Former Make Excellent Record, Winning With Ease—Features of Big Double Header

The basket ball season in Richmond opened with a double header Monday night between Madison High and Model High, boys' and girls' teams. The games were evenly divided, Madison High winning the girls' game by a score of 22 to 3 and losing the boys' game by a score of 20 to 9.

The Madison High girls' team showed up in veteran style and played an exceptional game from all angles, both in passing and team work. Thirteen of the total 22 points were made in this game by Miss James, forward on the Madison High team. Her closest rival teammate was Miss Sara Sheppard, forward, who scored 9 points. Both of these girls made four field goals, Miss James making five free throws out of eight chances and Miss Sheppard one out of two. This is the first season that Model High has had a girls' team, none of the players having had any previous experience on the floor. There are several on this team who have the making of good basket ball players. From the manner of playing it seems that Madison High will have a winner in its girls' team since these players put over some real playing in their first game of the season.

In the boys' game, the fast work of the entire Model High team showed up to good advantage in the final count of the score. During the first few minutes of play, Kit Crutcher scored a field goal, which started off his team in good form. The passing of Evans at forward and Covington at guard, kept the ball out of their opponents' end of the floor during the first part of the game. In the last half, the Madison High team was able to get away with some excellent work scoring four field goals in quick order.

Stone, forward on Madison High, scored two field goals and his teammate, Blevins, center, was able to place the ball thru the hoop for two more goals.

The Model High team had the wind in their favor on account of their weight. Every member of this team has had some excellent work during the fall on the football team. This, coupled with the intensive training that Coach Hembree has been giving them during the past week, placed them in excellent condition for this game.

The point makers on the Model High team were Covington, who brought home 10 out of 20 points, Salyer and Kit Crutcher, each making four points and Bal Luxon two. The guards covered well at all stages of the game, staying with their men. A number of times both teams pulled some pretty stuff in passing the ball down the floor.

Coach Hembree, of the Model High team, as had some difficulty in selecting men to play in the games because of the excellent material that has shown up on the floor in the 14 men from whom to choose. Because of this, there has been no selection made for membership on the first team. The next game is scheduled with Winchester High on next Friday night. It is expected that temporary berths will be found by that time for seven or eight of the men, these places at all times being subject to change, should the quality of work be overshadowed by one of the other men in practice. The line-up of the teams in the games were:

GIRLS TEAM
Madison High: Sarah Chenault (13), S. Sheppard (9), Luxon (2), M. Sheppard, G. Salyer, Yates, G. M. Chenault. Substitutes: Rice for Doty in second half (4).
Officials: Referee, Miss Dean, first half; Miss Hammond, second half.

BOYS TEAM
Wilson, Stone (5), Kit Crutcher (4), Kunkel (2), Model High, Luxon for Kit Crutcher (2); Arnold for Evans. Officials: Referee, N. G. Deniston, scorer; Keith, Gabby, timekeepers.

LAWS TOO COMPLEX BILLIONS UNPAID
(By Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 14.—Dr. Thomas Adams, of the Treasury staff, told the House Ways and Means committee today that the Department estimates that "more than a billion dollars" are outstanding in unpaid taxes because of the government's inability to audit returns. He said the present complex revenue laws rendered the Internal Revenue department unable to check up the 1917 tax returns.

NEW MACHINERY AT POWER PLANT

Establishment of Ky. Utilities One of Most Modern and Complete in State

The new machinery at the plant of the Kentucky Utilities company has been installed under the supervision of Superintendent G. T. Fawkes, and is now operating in a very satisfactory manner and the plant is believed to be one of the most modern and completely equipped of any in this part of the state.

The company will henceforth have power for the entire city for years, with some to spare. The building has been improved also as a result of the accident of sometime ago, which necessitated the installing of a new engine, new generators, exciters and other paraphernalia. The engine now in use is twice as powerful as the old one. The work of starting the new machinery, together with the completion of the building has been finished much to the satisfaction of representatives of the company. The plant with the new machinery is a wonderful power-producing establishment.

Representatives of the company, in speaking of the improvements, expressed their appreciation of the consideration of the public in general during the time the plant was closed, a necessary movement, while new machinery was being installed. The city is assured sufficient power as well as light, and it is believed in point of quantity, as well as quality, these essentials have few equals in any city of the size of Richmond in the state.

COAL INDUSTRY DRAWS CRITICISM

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 14.—Sharp criticism of the national coal industry, with an implied threat of drastic legislation by congress to meet alleged evils of profiteering and speculation, accompanied a partial report of the Senate Committee on Production and Reconstruction submitted to the senate today. In general the report, which asks power for the committee to continue its investigations, suggests government activities to bring about co-operation. In addition, the republican members, Senators Calder, Edge and Kenyon asked special legislative attention to the present methods of producing and distributing coal. Calder asserted "this must be corrected," while Kenyon declared that if it is not corrected "harsh as the remedy may be, I shall favor taking over the mines." Edge voiced opposition to government intrusion into private industry, but advocated legislative scrutiny.

The report asserts that coal profiteering is continuing unchallenged by the Department of Justice.

T. O. BROADBUDS DEAD

Mr. T. O. Broadbudd, former Richmond merchant, who, for the past two years has been located at Ravenna, died at a local infirmary late Monday of a complication of troubles, including leakage of the heart. Mr. Broadbudd was brought here with the intention of having an operation performed to alleviate the former trouble, but his condition continued to become more serious.

The deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. James Douglas and Mrs. Owen Langdon, of Ravenna; three sisters, Mrs. Alex Turpin, of Red House, Mrs. G. O. Park, of this city and Mrs. Alma Gentry, and three brothers, Messrs. Kavanaugh, Tobe and Goff Broadbudd; one son, Raymond Broadbudd.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

FIRST FIRE IN THREE WEEKS

The city firemen nipped what promised to be a threatening blaze at 6:30 Tuesday morning in the barn at the rear of Steve Haynes' home, Collins street, north of Main street, when Mrs. Haynes saw a small blaze issuing from the side of the building and summoned the department. The firemen were upon the scene in a jiffy and the fire was short lived, it being extinguished, no material damage being wrought. The cause of the fire is not known. The high wind threatened to carry the flames and flying sparks to nearby buildings, however, the efforts of the firemen proved effective. This is the first fire in the city for a period of three weeks, the last one being the big conflagration on East Main street, November 26.

DEMPSEY DEFENDS HIS TITLE TONIGHT

(By Associated Press)
New York, Dec. 14.—For the first time since Jack Dempsey won the heavy weight championship, New York patrons of the fist sport will have an opportunity of seeing the big fellow in action at the Madison Square Garden tonight.

Bill Brennan, formerly of Chicago, but now residing here, is the challenger for the title. These two met at Milwaukee nearly three years ago and on that occasion Dempsey scored a technical knockout in the sixth round. That was long before Dempsey beat Willard for the title. Brennan still believes that he has a chance to redeem himself in this bout.

"I'm not afraid of Dempsey," Brennan said a few days ago at his training quarters here. "Jack knows I gave him a good battle when we met before and but for an injury to my ankle when I fell I could have gone along with him in good shape."

Most of those who have seen both men in action, however, are not quite so confident as Brennan on this point. So far as build and measurements go the men seem pretty evenly matched on paper, but when seen in ring costume at their respective training quarters, Dempsey looked to be much the more robust of the pair. The champion's weight looked to be more evenly distributed while Brennan is the rangy type of athlete who does not round out quite as pleasing to the critical eye but gives unmistakable indications of possessing two essentials, assurance and endurance.

Since the Walker law permitting a revival of boxing in this state became operative nearly three months ago, local fans have been looking forward for a heavy weight bout to be put on by some of the promoters and Tex Rickard is furnishing the initial clash between the big fellows under the new legal conditions.

Brennan has been seen here several times in bouts during the regime of the Frawley law and in nearly every instance the Chicago man acquitted himself creditably. Some New York patrons of the ring only remember Dempsey as an unpretentious newcomer from the west, who boxed twice at a Bronx club house, and in another minor battle a few years ago. Tonight they will see a wonderfully improved fighting machine, who in a little over four years has made his way to the top of the fistic ladder through persistent hard work and who possesses all the attributes which are necessary in the make-up of a champion heavy-weight pugilist.

LEAF WAREHOUSES WILL OPEN DEC. 27

Preparations Being Made To Move Finest Grade Early To Make Room For Livestock

The first of the tobacco to reach the local warehouses, is expected to make its appearance within a short time, since it is reported the houses will be opened on December 28th.

This will admit of many, it is claimed, moving much of their tobacco, which they are anxious to do in order to make room for the housing of their stock for the winter. Owing to the fact that the acreage was greater than ever before, every available foot of barn and shed space has been utilized and much of the leaf was exposed to the weather in some instances.

The sales are expected to be started on time, according to indications, and reports have it that there will be a bountiful supply of the weed on hand.

Producers are preparing to take the advice of many and are preparing to move only the best grades to the warehouses for the early sales especially. The tobacco is being graded closer than ever before, and it will be easy to discern at a glance, the grades present. Some declare the prospects for a good price are better in this than many other counties but would not give their reason for so stating. The matter of affiliating with the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association is still hanging fire, although there are indications that there will be a good representation from this county when the sales start.

Rheumatism Relief -- 25c.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets). Are Helping Thousands Who Tried Expensive Things Without Result. It's Guaranteed.

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of waste. Failure in any one of these processes means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ailments.
● Rheumatism—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons—cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body?
Think of this. It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why? pay five or ten times as much for uncertain things? A 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-five days—must help you. Must give you prompt relief and satisfactory benefit or cost you nothing.
Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, tones the liver, regulates kidney and bowel action, improves the blood and cleanses the system. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time. Just try it. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

BANK RESOURCES IN U. S. DOUBLE WITHIN SIX YEARS

WONDERFUL INCREASE NOT ALL NEW WEALTH, BUT ARISES PARTLY FROM SAVINGS.

WAR MADE PEOPLE THINK

Invested in Liberty Bonds Through Patriotism—Now Buying Certificates, Realizing Value.

Some very significant figures have been given out by the Comptroller of the Currency with regard to the national banks of the United States, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat in its editorial columns, March 15th.

During the past six years their resources have increased $11,415,020,000, being 100 per cent. This is a greater increase than they made during the entire previous 51 years of their existence, continues the Globe.

Those who can carry their minds back to the period embracing the first 20 years after the establishment of the national banks during the Civil War and remember the intense, the almost fanatical, opposition to them, and the prophecies that they would ruin the country, can now understand what a triumph of far-sighted statesmanship their establishment was. They carried us through the reconstruction period after the war, when, had we continued the system of unregulated state banks previously existing, wildcatting would have wrecked our whole financial system. They also carried us through the period of resumption of specie payments, when the greenback dollar was made equal in value to the gold dollar by the promise of the government to exchange a gold dollar for it on demand, which promise was claimed but seldom, because of the confidence the people had in the financial stability of the government.

Yet those who passed through those resumption days and remember the wild ravings of the greenbackers can best appreciate what the national banks did for the country. They placed banking on a solid foundation. They upheld the credit of the country. They financed the government. They restored confidence in banks, badly shattered by the multitude of failures in the unregulated state banks of the period preceding the war and up to the time necessary war financing led to the prohibition of issuance of bills by such institutions.

In spite of all this, however, the banking system of the United States was not satisfactory. There was no way in which the financial power of the country could be co-ordinated and massed for national purposes. Banks were competing instead of pulling together. For years this weakness was recognized and efforts made to overcome it. During President Taft's administration decisive steps were taken to frame a banking system for the country which would assemble the banking resources in co-operation and make available for industrial and commercial use through bank loans the credit of individuals based upon their activities.

This resulted in the framing of the act establishing the Federal Reserve Bank System, with its regional and subordinate banks, which became a law early in President Wilson's administration. This brought together the resources of all the national banks and of such other banks as allied themselves with it and provided the means for expansion of currency circulation whenever needed, based upon the individual credit of citizens thus assembled in the banks instead of upon the credit of the government itself.

This system had scarcely been well established when the hurricane of war burst upon the world, and because of it the United States weathered the storm without financial panic or wreckage. The result has been as given above, an increase of 100 per cent in national bank resources during a period of but six years. This is not a creation of new wealth entirely, but an assembling of the savings of the people in more tangible and usable form. Great savings were made to buy bonds and finance the war, and these show in the bank resources largely. Great investments were made in new industries and enterprises, and these also are shown in the condition of the banks. We are a great nation of more than 100,000,000 of people, and when we turn en masse to economy and saving, as we did during the war, it takes but a few dollars each to make a tremendous whole. During the last year this, addition to the resources of the national banks only was $2,670,000,000, making a total of $22,711,375,000. If we were to add to this the resources of the state banks, the savings banks and the trust companies, now rendered secure by state supervision, which in total considerably exceeds those of the national banks, we would have a grand total of banking resources exceeding $50,000,000,000, more than twice our war debt and one-quarter of the war debt of the entire world.

The new $100 Registered Treasury Savings Certificate may be seen at almost any of the banks and at all post offices. Make up your mind to own one and start to getting it this month.

Col. S. F. Creelius left Tuesday to join his family in Texas where they have been with relatives the past few weeks.

BOURBON COUNTY NOW BELIES ITS NAME

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Ky., Dec. 14.—Distilleries and warehouses whose output and contents made Bourbon county famous the world over for its whisky and gave to the Kentucky product its trade name, rapidly are being turned to the uses of small industrial concerns and storage houses for tobacco and other agricultural products, according to William E. Hacker, secretary-manager of the Paris Commercial Club. Some have been turned into bottling houses for soft drinks. Bourbon county since Dec. 9th has been "whiskyless" insofar as the distillery warehouses are concerned. Although it was announced that the last barrel of whisky had left Bourbon county a week prior to that date Secretary Hacker asserts that it did not really leave until last Thursday. The shipment was made from the Walsh, or "Sam Clay" distillery. The Sam Clay distillery is to be turned into a tobacco warehouse and re-distilling plant, it was stated.

Many other distilleries in Bourbon county, which formerly housed mammoth stills that turned out thousands of gallons of whisky annually have become storage houses for hemp, grain, blue grass seed, tobacco and other farm products, said the secretary. The distillery buildings in many instances were built 50 and 60 years ago and in some instances are even older. But their walls are often 14 to 36 inches thick and it is expected that they will last for many years.

WEAK; RUN-DOWN

Carolina Lady Got So She Could
Just Drag—"Cardui Built Me Up," She Declares.

Kernersville, N. C.—In an interesting statement regarding Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Mrs. Wesley Mabe, of near here, recently said: "I have known Cardui for years, but never knew its worth until a year or so ago.
I was in a weakened, run-down condition. I became draggy—didn't eat or sleep to do any good; couldn't do anything without a great effort. I tried different remedies and medicines, yet
I continued to drag.

"I decided to give Cardui a trial, and found it was just what I really needed. It made me feel much stronger soon after I began to use it. I began to eat more, and the nervous, weak feeling began to leave. Soon I was sleeping good.

"Cardui built me up as no other tonic ever did.

"I used Cardui with one daughter who was puny, felt bad and tired out all the time. It brought her right out, and soon she was as well as a girl could be. We think there is nothing like Cardui."

Do not allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. You may find it just what you really need. For more than 40 years it has been used by thousands and thousands, and found just as Mrs. Mabe describes. NC-142

BUILDERS EXPECT BUSY YEAR AHEAD

Cost of Material Holds Up Many Buildings — Lumber Drops
Plastering Advances

Building material which has been at high tide for some time, is said to be on the decline, and dealers, as well as builders, who have been holding up building for some time on this account, predict there will be another rise, especially in the price of lumber, when he spring work opens up. Lumber, which has fallen in price, is offset by plaster and cement, it is claimed, which has a steady upward tendency, the former especially being responsible, builders assert, for the holding up of much work until spring. It is known there are several buildings about the city, some under course of construction, others contemplated, which will not be completed at this time owing to the fact that plastering is now quoted at from $1.25 to $1.35 per square yard, one builder said.

"This is entirely too high," he continued, and stated there would be much building in the spring despite high prices, but a drop in prices generally would find a larger number of additional houses in the city of Richmond within a few months after the spring work begun. The strikes in the greater cities, it is maintained, will not be effective here there is no difficulty expected from this source. All Richmond builders are expecting a busy year ahead.

LESS TO TOBACCO, MORE TO BLUEGRASS

The present is said to be a most excellent time for sowing blue grass seed and much of it is being sown in Madison County. Early Saturday morning a load of seed was taken to the western part of the county where it was sown during the day.

One man said there would be a large quantity sown and more during the month of February, which was another favorite time for some. The production this year from Madison county was greater than usual, and some declare that the quantity of seed will be even greater another year.

L. Farley, living in the southern part of the county, stated there would be hundreds of additional acres put to grass this year and this would admit of many realizing upon ground that has heretofore been put to tobacco, and predicted the crop of the weed next year would not be as great as this.

POULTRY FACTS

OAT SPROUTER FOR POULTRY

Successful Chicken Raisers Beginning to Appreciate Value of Green
Feed in Winter.

All poultry raisers are beginning to appreciate the value of sprouting oats for hens in winter. I made a sprouter of my own as shown in the drawing, says a writer in an exchange. It is a box 20 by 20 inches and 36 inches high. It is large enough to supply 50 to 75 hens with sprouted oats every other day. There are six drawers in the box, each two inches deep with window screen for bottoms. A is a funnel into which warm water may be poured into the square box B which is full of small holes in the bottom. I put about one-half inch of oats in each pan, then pour a gallon of warm water through a funnel into the pan B, from which the water trickles down through the oats in all the drawers and finally collects in the lower pan

Homemade Oat Sprouter.

C, which is water tight. D is a lamp below the pan C and should be regulated so the oats in the lower drawer will not get warmer than 55 or 60 degrees. The oats should be watered each morning and night, with warm water.

The four holes in the side furnish ventilation for the lamp. In one week the sprouts will be three to four inches high, and may be fed. Begin with the lower drawer, and after feeding the contents refill with oats from the pan E in which they have been soaking for 24 hours. Move the other drawers down and put the last one filled on top. I find one feed every other day to be enough.

HENS AS MORTGAGE LIFTERS

Feathered Tribe Would Prove as Profitable as Hogs if Given Same Attention.

With the same care, systematic attention and scientific feeding given the poultry flocks as are given your hogs, the feathered tribe would prove to be as much of "mortgage-lifters" as the four-footed beasts. Poultry will not stand for neglect any more than your live stock.

DISPOSE OF EARLY PULLETS

Fowls Hatched Last Winter Will Molt About January First and Should Be Marketed.

Pullets hatched in January and February are the ones that lay in the summer and fall when the old hens are molting. It will be well not to depend on these to continue laying through the winter, however, as they probably will molt about the first of January and should be disposed of at that time.

FIND MARKET FOR BROILERS

Good Thing May Be Made of Plump Young Chicks Weighing Three-Quarters to a Pound.

If your farm is near a city of large hotels, restaurants and club houses, a good thing may be made of plump young chicks, termed squab broilers. At seven to eight weeks old when weighing three-quarters to a pound each they often bring as much as one dollar a pair.

Don't feed the chickens in a dirty, filthy place.

It pays to watch the flock closely in the fall, winter and early spring.

Clean the floors of the hen houses every few days; don't allow the trash to accumulate.

Perhaps some hens and pullets would be much better layers if they could select their owners.

Leghorns at 5½ months, and the larger breeds of Rocks and Reds at 6½ months, will begin egg production.

It is much more economical and resultful to feed a variety of feeds to poultry, than it is to depend on one or two grains.

Chemists find that eggs simply are water, protein and ash and that more than one-half the egg is water, so it is apparent that sufficient water is a necessary consideration.

Mr. D. L. Cobb is reported as not so well today, his many friends will regret to learn.

PLAN CLINICS TO STUDY CRIME

Psychiatric Research Offers Possibilities in the Solving of Problems.

WORK RENEWED AFTER WAR

Preventive Rather Than Cure Is the Watchword of the Modern Psychiatrist—Reach Them Before Crime Becomes a Habit.

New York.—Broad possibilities for the operation of psychiatric clinics in connection with courts and correctional institutions during the reconstruction period are outlined in an article appearing in Mental Hygiene, written by Dr. Thomas W. Salmon, medical director of the national committee for mental hygiene. The title of the article is "Some New Problems for Psychiatric Research in Delinquency."

The work of which Dr. Salmon writes was well under way in a number of institutions, notably in the vicinity of New York City, when war interrupted it, taking many of the trained psychiatrists into the service and otherwise curtailing the effort to apply the principles of modern psychiatry to the handling of persons accused of crime and those already convicted.

Sufficient progress had been made with the work, says Dr. Salmon, to assure it of an important place in all future efforts to get at the roots of crime and delinquency and to make it certain that these conditions "can no more be successfully managed without investigating the state of the organ of conduct than disorders of other kinds can be treated without understanding the processes responsible for them."

Its Importance in Courts.

The beginning of the application of psychiatry to crime and delinquency was through clinics in children's courts. Successful here, it spread to other criminal courts and into institutions where, according to Dr. Salmon, it is destined to play an important part in determining the best methods for handling prisoners so as to do the best by them and by society as well.

In connection with the part the psychiatrist is destined to play in modern court procedure, Dr. Salmon believes that the establishment of such clinics, presided over by experts with no connection with either side of the cases tried, will go a long way toward bringing about better conditions. Concerning the so-called "alienists" and his "expert testimony," Dr. Salmon says:

"Why supreme courts and courts of the general sessions content themselves with the so-called medical-legal testimony of 'alienists' employed by the district attorney and the defense—which is neither medical nor legal—remains a mystery. The findings of a psychiatric clinic, scientifically and impartially conducted with the sole purpose of aiding the judges in disposing of human issues before them, have more practical value than all the expert testimony that either side could purchase with the proceeds of a liberty loan."

Wide Field for Investigation.

Interesting especially is the suggestion by Dr. Salmon of the possibilities of finding out the deep seated causes of anti-social conduct in the individual through psychiatry. He says a comparatively small element furnishes the crime of a community and affords a field for scientific and impartial, unprejudiced study that is rich and almost virgin.

He thinks that this phase of criminology has barely been scratched as yet and believes it should be carried far in an endeavor to trace to their sources the original impulses for crime, so that eventually remedies may be found.

Prevention, rather than cure, is the watchword of the modern psychiatrist, as it is of the modern physician, although neither is inclined to neglect the person who has fallen ill. Dr. Salmon emphasizes the need of clinics that may reach first offenders before crime has become a habit. These, discovering the sources of criminal impulses and applying the proper remedies, may restore many persons of anti-social tendencies to society as normal citizens, in the opinion of Dr. Salmon.

BOARDS MUST BORROW TO PAY SCHOOL TEACHERS

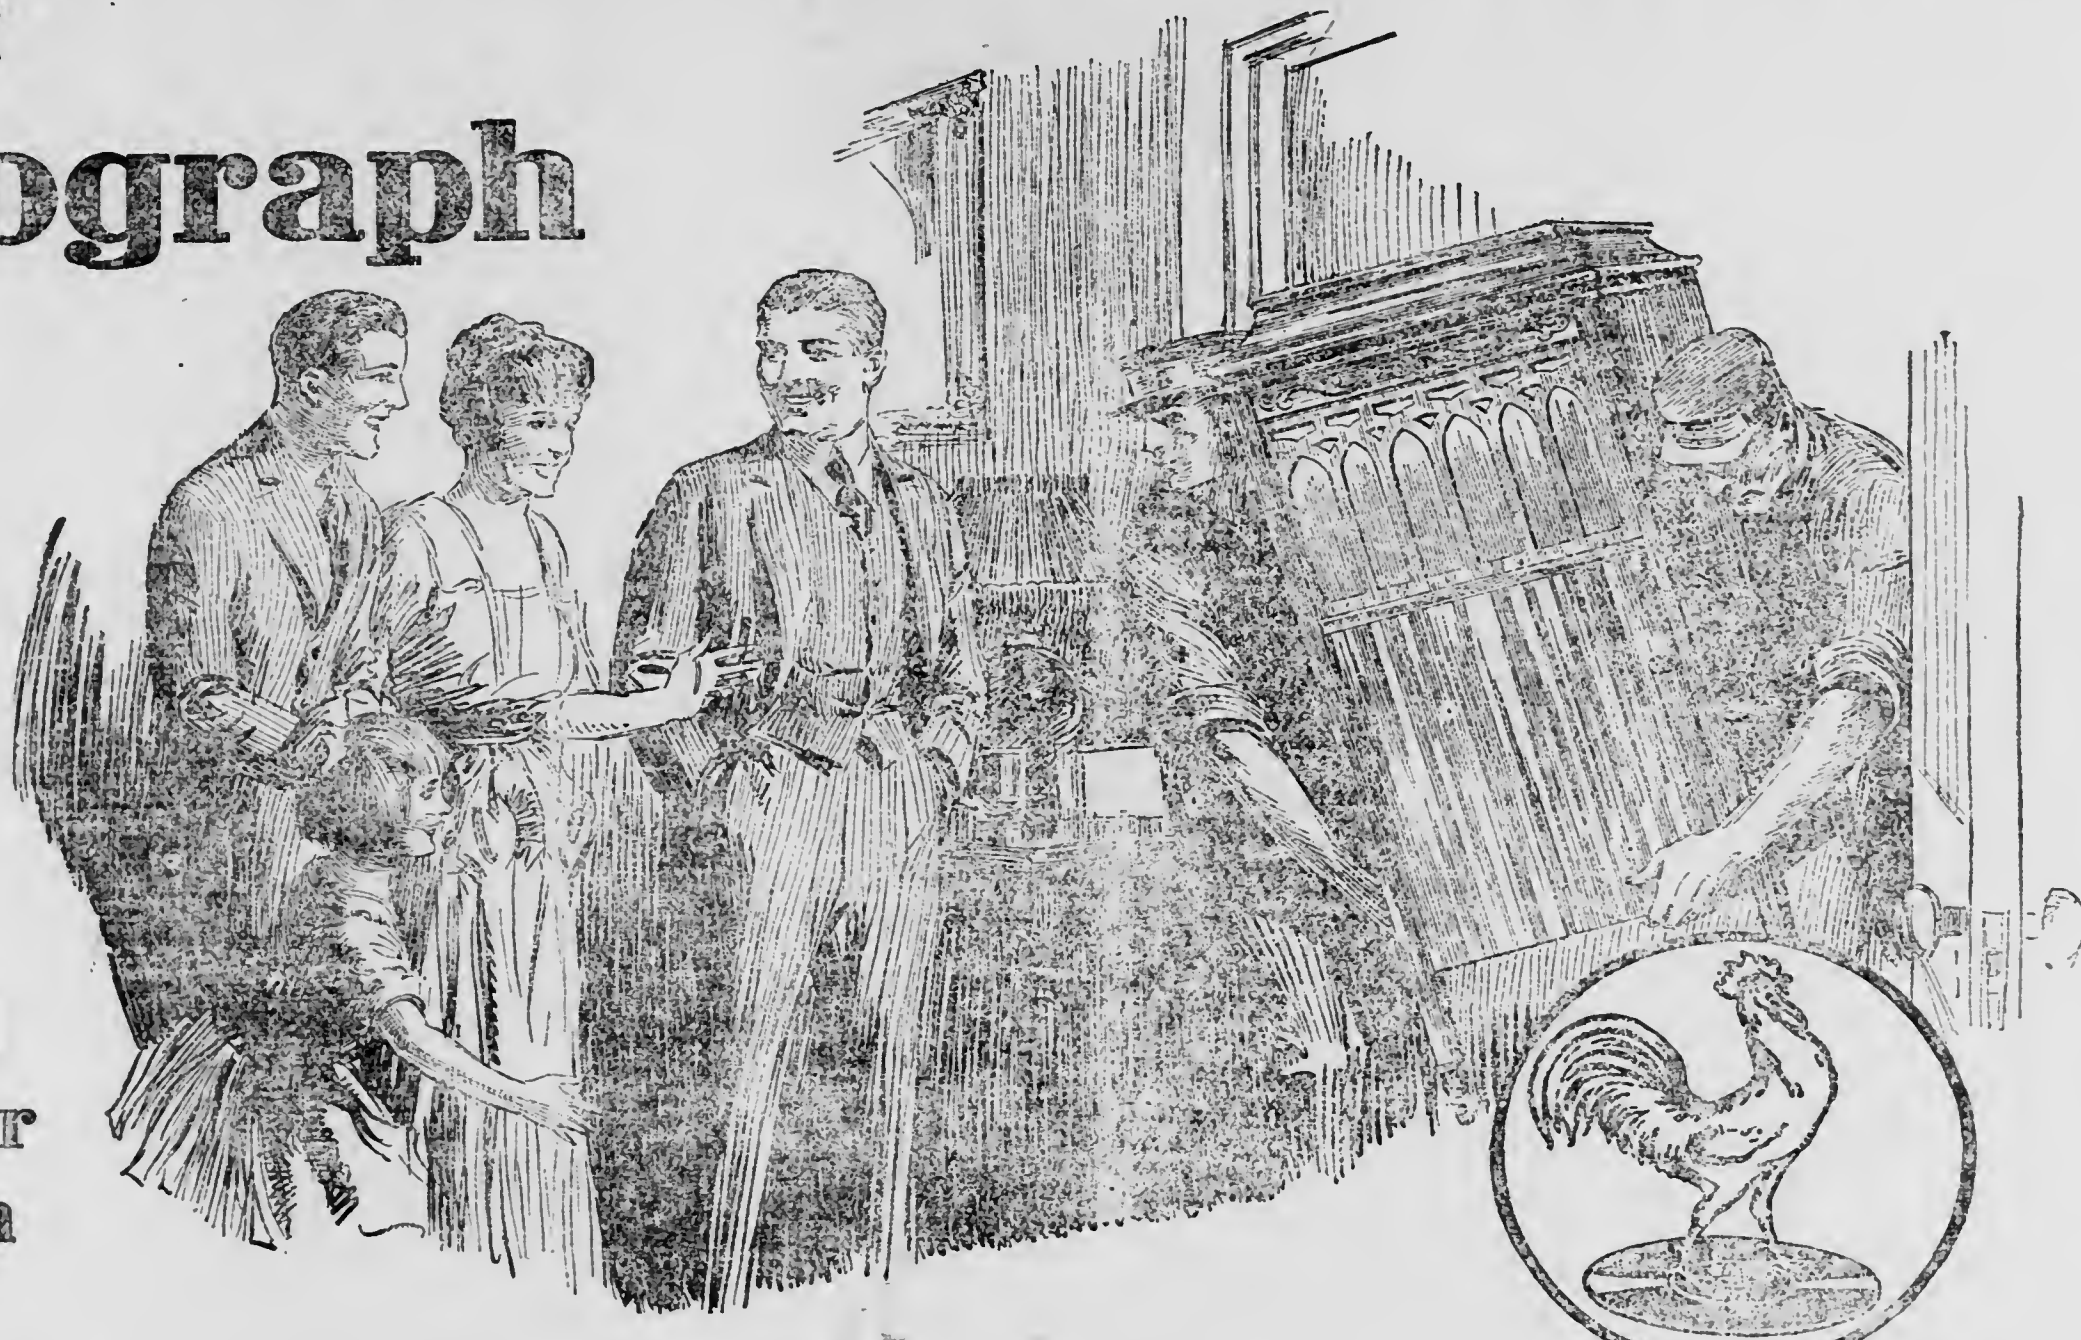

(By Associated Press)
Frankfort, Dec. 14.—School teachers in Kentucky must be paid promptly even though boards of education have to borrow money, State Superintendent George Colvin has notified school officials throughout the state. Every board, he declares, has the financial resources and credit necessary to pay promptly. The notice was sent in a letter which accompanied the December installment of the state school fund, sent out on Saturday and Monday.

HOW THEY EXPLAIN IT

A number of local butchers and retail meat dealers, when asked regarding the prices prevailing and their attention called to the price beef cattle are bringing on foot, said that much of their meat was bought already dressed which made it come higher in cost to them.

WHY THE PREACHER IS "MEAT" FOR "CON" MEN

Members of His Flock Are Prone to Follow His Leadership in Financial Investments.

"Sell some to a preacher first." Just why this should be heavily underscored as one of the most important steps in the campaign of the young stock salesman, known a generation or so ago as a "green goods man," will not be immediately apparent to the uninitiated.

Is not the minister one of the most poorly paid of our quasi-public servants? Has he not, therefore, but little money to invest?

"Quite so," would say the handbook on "How to Get Rich on Phony Stock," were not this line of instruction always dispensed verbally instead of by printed page.

"Quite so. The preacher gets a little pay, and has still less to invest. Nevertheless, sell him some, even if only a few shares."

"But why, Oh Wise Instructor, should I waste time selling these few shares when I might be selling many?" "Because, forsooth, Oh Earnest Pupil, you will sell many a big lot by being able to tell people that their preacher has bought a few."

"But why should people care what stock their preacher has bought? His studies are all of the spiritual, his activities in promoting the moral. Why should anyone imagine that his minister is judge of an investment?"

"They should not, but they do. Oh Pupil. Tell a man to ask his garage man what is the matter with his car and he will do so after he has made it worse by his own tinkering. Tell a man to get a plumber to fix his drains, and he will do so."

Tell a man to ask a banker whether a stock is sound, and he will not; no, not even after he has been many times stung. But tell him that his preacher has bought your stock and he will do likewise."

That this old, old formula of the "green goods man," the "confidence man," and the "phony stock salesman" is still producing satisfactory results is apparent from the recent appearance in a religious organ of the alleged experience of a minister who acquired himself an automobile and a comfortable capital reserve by "stock investments."

One single line in the alleged experience of the minister noted was enough to exhibit the cloven hoof. "I could not even make payments on the Liberty Bonds for which I subscribed." This is the most overworked part of the vocabulary of the worthless stock specialist. "Don't buy Liberty Bonds," he says. "They pay you only 4 1/2 per cent. My securities will pay you 500 per cent." The only difference between this statement and the facts being that the Liberty Bonds will return you exactly 100 cents of value when the time comes for the government to redeem them, while the promoter's offerings most likely will represent 100 per cent loss long before that time.

For the minister, as for the professional man in other lines and the business man whose own organization requires all his time to supervise, there is but one investment which does not demand extensive investigation before purchase.

This is the government bond, whose security is undoubted, whose interest return is certain, and which can always be converted instantly into cash.

PARTIAL PAYMENT PLAN

Works Well in Buying United States Treasury Savings Certificates.

The partial payment plan of buying Treasury Savings Certificates in St. Louis is catching on quickly. A few days ago J. H. Anderson, director of the Metropolitan Department, attended a noonday meeting of the employees of the D'Arcy Advertising Company, and made a brief talk. Seven of the employees subscribed for bonds, totaling $800.

They agreed to pay $5 per month on the certificates, the seven clerks buying through five different banks.

The contract is that they pay the amount the certificates are worth on the month of final payment, at which time the bank will turn over the certificate and open a savings account in the bank with a credit of one dollar.

WILTON'S GOOD RECORD.

New Hampshire Town Makes Big Showing in Government Securities.

Wilton, New Hampshire, has hung up a record for community thrift in the last seven months which sets a mark for every larger town and city in the United States to work for. Wilton has 1,400 inhabitants, but the postmaster of the town has sold government savings certificates in excess of $8,000, maturity value, in that time. The men, women and children placed $2,945.83 of their money in War Savings Stamps and $7,772.83 in Treasury Savings Certificates. This is an average of $1.98 for each inhabitant in W. S. S. and $3.24 in Treasury Savings Certificates, or a grand average of $5.22 per capita. The inhabitants of the town expect to continue that ratio of investment throughout this year.

Some men still wait for their sailing ship to come in; others prepare, by steady saving and safe investment in Government Savings Securities, a steamship which will get back on time.

JOHN NOLAN
ATTORNEY AT LAW
RICHMOND, KY.

Why?

Many persons wonder why they have to pay 40 or 50 cents, or more, for the beef they buy when live cattle are only 10 or 15 cents a pound.

In the first place, we average only about $\frac{1}{2}$ pound of meat from the pound of steer for which we pay 10 or 15 cents. Only part of the other half consists of such by-products as hides, oleo oil, tallow, etc.—the remainder is waste. And the return from by-products just now is very small. Hides and fats as well as many other items are down to pre-war prices.

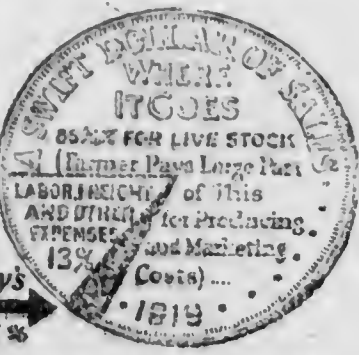

In the second place, there are not many pounds of the kind of meat for which you pay 40 or 50 cents, or more, in the entire animal. Sometimes the retailer has to sell a lot of the meat he buys for about what he pays for it, because you and your neighbors pass by certain cuts and insist upon the other choicer cuts, such as steaks, etc.

Necessarily, he must get enough for these choicer cuts to make up for what he loses on the less popular ones, such as soup meat, etc.

The difference between the final retail price of the finished meat product and the first cost of the live steer is less than it is for most farm products.

If the foregoing raises any question in the mind of the reader, we will endeavor to answer it, upon request.

Y. M. C. A. Activities Will Be More Decided Later
Activities in the ranks of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. at Eastern Normal will be more decided, it is claimed, in the near future, and there will be a series of events during the winter which will bring the members and workers generally in closer touch with the working of the organization. During the early spring after the new term there are expected to be a number of new members when there will perhaps be a rearrangement of the classes, it is reported, and an impetus to the work generally.

Demand For Toys
Merchants state there has been an unusual call for toys already and are predicting a big sale during the next ten days. It is claimed there will be many children have toys this Christmas who were devoid of them last year. "Last year," one merchant said, "it seemed that everything went towards something out of the ordinary to eat. This year, it is decidedly different."

TRANSYLVANIA HAS OLDEST LIBRARY

PRICELESS COLLECTION OF BOOKS OWNED BY LEXINGTON COLLEGE NOT IN FIREPROOF HOUSE.

MANY WORKS ARE IN LATIN

Ancient Medical and Law Books Could Not Be Replaced—Many of Them Centuries Old.

Lexington, Ky.—The oldest library in Kentucky and one of the oldest in the United States, a library estimated by lovers of old books to be worth $250,000, which is centuries old, is one of the possessions of Transylvania College, the first college west of the Alleghenies, whose financial foundation was formed by the escheated estates of three Revolutionary period Tories.

Probably nowhere else in America, if anywhere else in the world, can the volumes of Transylvania's old library be duplicated.

Many of these priceless old books are of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, true examples of what was then a fine art, the type as clear as the day they were printed, many of the texts in Latin, though some of them like William Cowper's "Anatomy of Human Bodies," 1698, and Culpepper's "Astrological Judgment of Diseases," 1655, both published in London, are in the English of that time.

These books were purchased by Transylvania long ago, when books were costly and few. Dr. Charles Caldwell, of the Medical College of Transylvania, took with him to Paris in 1821 the sum of seventeen thousand dollars with which to buy books for the medical library, and these books still are consulted by the medical experts of America, who can find them nowhere else. Dr. Caldwell found that because of the storage time in France many libraries which had belonged to Frenchmen heretofore in the wealthy classes had found their way to the bookshelves of Transylvania.

Tells of Purchases.
"I found and purchased," he says in his report, "no inconsiderable number of the choicest works of the fathers of medicine from Hippocrates to the revival of letters—works which in no other way, and perhaps at no other time, could have been collected so readily and certainly and on terms so favorable, either in Paris or any other city of the world. Hence the decided superiority of Transylvania's medical library, in these works, to any other in the west and south, and probably in the whole United States."

Dr. Peter and Dr. Bush, of the medical school, in 1832 made another foreign purchase for the medical college when they spent eleven thousand dollars for books and apparatus in London and Paris. One of the greatest cameras, first given to the world in that year, is among the apparatus they brought back to Lexington, and it is today in Transylvania's museum, along with other rare and costly apparatus of that early date.

This medical library is practically intact, and is rich in rare material for the medical student and author. Printed in the clean, clear type of the period, their bindings are such as to delight the eye of the book lover and connoisseur.

Refinesque's Works.
The collection of medical botanics and works on natural history especially are interesting and show the influence of Rafinesque himself, who for seven years, from 1819 to 1823, was the head of this department in Transylvania. Among the bird books there is the set of Alexander Wilson, published in Philadelphia from 1808 to 1812, with five volumes added to about twenty years later by Charles Lucien Bonaparte; George Edwards' "Natural History of Birds" and "Gleanings of Natural History," published in London, 1743 to 1764; "The Natural History of Carolina, Florida and the Bahama Islands," by Mark Catesby, published in London in 1771, all large volumes with beautiful, clear cut plates. Besides these, there is the "Dictionnaire des Sciences Naturelles," of M. Dumas de Sainte-Croix, printed in Paris between 1816 and 1830, probably the most artistically illustrated of any in the set.

The first publication on the general botany of North America is in this library. It is the "Flora Boreali-Americana" of Andreas Michaux, published in Paris in 1803. There are also "Flora Virginica," by John Clayton published in Leyden in 1762; William C. C. Barton's "The Flora of North America," published in Philadelphia in 1823, and many others of equal interest.

The Old Law Library.
The old law library was once a valuable as the medical and other scientific books, but unfortunately has not been so well preserved through the centuries. There are left, however, many interesting books, among them the Hargrave collection of state trials in which are found the proceedings at the trial of Captain William Kidd for piracy; the trial of Anne Coleman, in which her last letter to King Henry is published; the trials of Sir Walter Raleigh, Lord Cobham, Mary, Queen of Scots, members of the Gunpowder Plot, and of the Archbishop of Canterbury, the prelate on charges of heresy.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harris spent Saturday in Lexington.

Raleigh, Lord Cobham, Mary, Queen of Scots, members of the Gunpowder Plot, and of the Archbishop of Canterbury, the prelate on charges of heresy.

In 1834, the library was enriched by a gift from "His Britannic Majesty William IV," of 81 folios, in each of which was bound a slip stating that the volume is to be "perpetually preserved in the library of Transylvania University." These include four volumes of the Doomsday Book, catalogues of manuscripts in the British museum, calendars of the proceedings in chancery and pleadings in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, statutes of the realm under various kings, and books of fac-similes of the historic charters of England.

Edward Everett in 1830 presented to the university twelve vellum-bound folios of Latin and Greek studies, one of which bears his autograph. The younger Michaux, the famous French scientist, gave the college a huge Chinese dictionary with translations in French and Latin. This gift, made in 1821, bears the autograph of the donor on a sheet of paper held down at the four corners of the wafers of the period, attached to the inside of the cover.

Mohammedan's Gift.
A Mohammedan theologian, whose name has not been preserved, gave to the college an "illuminated Persian manuscript," which is spoken of in a catalogue of gifts to the college published in 1822. This manuscript was translated recently by a Persian scholar, and it proved to be the history, written in 1739, of Timur, the conqueror of Persia.

"Classics," published by some of the most famous of the publishers of the 16th and 17th centuries, still in perfect condition and sumptuously bound, constitute another feature of the library. Many of these bear on the margins notes made by readers in Greek letters as clear and perfect as the type in which they are printed. These are matchless examples of the typographers' art and include a copy of Plutarch's Lives, published in Paris in 1624, which is 16 1/2 by 11 1/2 inches, and four inches thick, and weighs sixteen pounds; a large issue of Grotius, made in Amsterdam; a three-volume edition of G. B. B. made in Paris; a two-volume edition of Plautus, printed at Leipzig, and many smaller volumes in leather bindings brightened by decorations in gold.

The library also includes a copy of the first English edition of Novum Organum, published in 1655; Descartes' "Principia," published in 1680, and a London edition of Erasmus' "Familiar Colloquies," which gives evidence of much use, and which recalls the fact that it was denounced by the doctors of the Sorbonne as "an erroneous, scandalous and impious publication," and its reading prohibited.

Published Bulletin.
Transylvania College recently published a bulletin which contains a catalogue of the rare and valuable volumes in its library. Twenty-four pages of the bulletin are filled with this list. The books catalogued total 228 volumes. Some of the books in the college library show the names of the men who helped in the establishment of this, the first college of its grade west of the Alleghenies. These names, written on the fly leaves of the books they gave to the University, include those of John Todd, Levi Todd, John Bradford, Henry Clay, Buckner Thruston, Benjamin Gratz, Charles S. Morehead, James Garrard, Richard M. Johnson, Thomas A. Marshall, Nathaniel G. Hart, Humphrey Marshall, Robert Wyndcliffe and John C. Breckinridge, most of whom helped to make the history of the commonwealth to which they thus early gave the books for its first educational institution.

TRANSYLVANIA CAMPUS COVERS TEN ACRES.

The Campus of Transylvania College at Lexington covers ten acres of land in the heart of the city. The college is just across the street from the Carnegie Library and students, therefore, are close to that institution, as well as having the advantage of the rare old library of Transylvania, which has attracted the attention of scholars the country over.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME

About 12,000,000 boys and girls, composing nearly half the school population of the United States, are members of the Junior Red Cross, which is helping the children of Europe, while at the same time it is doing an important work here at home. KILLED BY CARTRIDGE Campbellville, Ky.—Edward Pike was killed when shot in the head by a cartridge which he had given the 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. Luther Taylor as a plaything.

GREETINGS, PETE!

Here I am tonight in Winston-Salem where more tobacco is manufactured than in any other place on the face of the earth!

When I knocked off for the day, I buzzed around like a hungry bee in a buckwheat field—up and down long streets of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories!

As the Reynolds enterprise proved out more and more gigantic and I talked with more men about it, I got the real and true answer as to why Camels are so good and so entirely different from any other cigarette! I'll spin it for you, old top—listen:

Every man I talked with made the one big point that the officials and the more than 350 Reynolds foremen have an inborn knowledge of the tobacco business; that (putting it into a North Carolina expression) they were virtually "born and raised in a tobacco patch"; that they know tobacco; how to grade it, blend it, and how to manufacture and sell it!

And, what's most important of all, Pete, these Reynolds folks sure give men what they want—the best that can be produced! Why—Peter, it took months to perfect Camels Turkish and Domestic blend—and that refreshing flavor—and wonderful mild, mellow body!

Tomorrow, I'm going to meet some of the Reynolds folks. Got to see inside of those factories!

And, you know me!

AMERICANS ABROAD IN RED CROSS WORK

United States Citizens Far Away Enthusiastic Members of the "Fourteenth" Division.

Among the most enthusiastic and energetic members of the American Red Cross are those citizens of the United States who live outside the continental boundaries of their country—sons and daughters of the Stars and Stripes residing at the far corners of the earth.

These people compose the Insular and Foreign Division of the parent organization, generally known as the "Fourteenth" Division, which has jurisdiction of all territory outside the country proper; that is, Alaska, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Virgin Islands, the Philippines, Guam, and even the island of Yap, which came under our flag as a result of the world war. For the year 1920 this division reported 30,808 paid up members.

The main object of this division is to give our citizens everywhere the opportunity to participate in the work of the organization which stands for the best national ideals. Americans in far places intensely loyal and patriotic, treasure their membership in the Red Cross as the outward expression of their citizenship. It is another tie to the homeland and to each other. There are chapters of this division in Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Canal zone, Chile, China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, England, France, Guam, Guatemala, Haiti, Hawaii, Honduras, Japan, Manchuria, Netherlands, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Porto Rico, Siberia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Syria, Turkey, Uruguay, Venezuela and Virgin Islands.

During the war these scattered members of the Red Cross contributed millions in money, and millions of dollars' worth of necessary articles for the men in service, and sent many doctors and nurses to France. At the same time they carried on an excellent Home Service in their respective communities for the families of those who had gone to war, and in some regions gave large sums of money and immeasurable personal service to the relief of disaster and disease victims.

The division is now establishing service clubs in foreign ports for the benefit of sailors in the American Merchant Marine, making plans to aid Americans in trouble in foreign lands and completing arrangements for giving immediate adequate relief in case of disaster.

It is the Fourteenth Division's part in the great Peace Time program of the American Red Cross.

RED CROSS ASSISTS DISABLED VETERANS

The American Red Cross is carrying on a wide program of service for the disabled World War veterans receiving treatment in United States Public Health hospitals, and those being trained through agencies of the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

In each of the Public Health Service hospitals Red Cross workers devote their time to the general welfare of the service men from the day they enter the receiving ward until they are discharged. After the soldier's discharge the Red Cross continues its friendly service through the Home Service Section in his own community.

The Red Cross maintains a convalescent house at all of the hospitals, where patients can amuse themselves after they are well enough to be up and around. Parties and picture shows in the wards are also furnished, with occasional excursions when convalescence comes.

Great service has been rendered by the Red Cross in mental cases in identifying those who have appeared in state hospitals for the insane, and helping them secure compensation due from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

In the Federal Board's various district offices the Red Cross worker, acting with the Home Service Section, makes necessary loans to the men, arranges suitable living conditions, helps collect evidence and supply facts to the Board, assists in "appealing cases" and settles various personal difficulties for the men. The workers also follow up and aid all men who discontinue training.

The Red Cross agents find men "lost" to the Board, help clear up delayed cases and aid the college counselors in their friendly work with the men. Many Red Cross chapters have set up recreation facilities, and in some instances living clubs, so these victims of war may have attractive surroundings and the fun which must go with effective school work.

To the American Red Cross Institute for the Blind near Baltimore, Md., more than half of all the Americans blinded in the World War have come for training. The Institute, through the Red Cross, long ago conducted an exhaustive industrial survey to determine the vocations for which blind men could be fitted. As a result it is putting forth well trained men equipped to meet the social, civic and economic requirements of their respective communities.

Aid for Spanish Red Cross.
The Iberian chapter of the American Red Cross, composed of Americans resident in Spain, has just contributed $480 to a fund being raised by the Spanish Red Cross and the League of Red Cross Societies for the purpose of fighting malaria.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gibbs and Misses Lucile and Virginia Gibbs were in Lancaster Thursday for the Gibbs-Elmore wedding.

McDougall

THE WORLD'S MOST MODERN XMAS GIFT

A comparatively few cents a day puts a brand new spik-and-span 1920 model McDougall in your kitchen

Sit and Reach-Don't Stand and Walk

Note, just today, the many times you have to trudge across your kitchen for a dab of this or a dab of that—that might just as well be before you in a McDougall. Try to count the unnecessary steps. Figure the minutes you lose here and there. Estimate the strength it wastes. And remember that day in, day out, you slave away in the same plodding manner. No wonder the day is gone before you know it.

Now, frankly, is it worth it. Are a thousand steps, an hour extra in the kitchen and that tired feeling worth the few cents a day you "save" by doing without a McDougall?

See our latest display of 1920 types of the World's Most Modern Kitchen Cabinets—McDougalls—with all their nearly 100 wonderful new, up-to-date savers of steps, hours, work and food—many of which only McDougalls have.

Here are just eight of them:

1. The Patented McDougall Auto-Front—replaces bath-ersome swinging doors over the table. Draps out of sight—leaves a smooth cupboard shelf; no grooves to catch food; no obstructing partitions. (Shown lowered in cut). Lift!

and it locks! Only found on McDougalls.

2. Sanitary, Snow-white Sliding Top—It Locks! Glides out to full kitchen table width—and locks as rigid as rock. Can't rattle or bob up and down when you work or knead on it. Only McDougall Tops won't wobble!

3. High leg base that you can sweep beneath—sanitary!

4. Removable, Cleanable Flour Bin, 50 lbs capacity—sanitary!

5. Cleanable, non-clogging Flour sifter—sanitary!

6. Cleanable, non-corroding, Crystal Glass Sugar Bin on a swinging arm—sanitary!

7. Durable, heavy, white enameled cupboard shelves and interiors—sanitary. Interior vanished drawers.

8. Spar Varnish Finish—won't turn white—proof against kitchen steam, heat, boiling hot or cold water. Only McDougalls have this finish.

Yet McDougalls cost but little more. Not a penny added to the price because of the easy terms. Then why not have the guaranteed best—a McDougall? Select your this week.

WHAT you lose thru baking failure must be added to baking costs—it has to be paid for.

Calumet Baking Powder will save you all of that. Because when you use it—there are no failures—no losses. Every baking is sweet and palatable—and stays moist, tender and delicious to the last tasty bite.

That's a big saving—but that isn't all. You save when you buy Calumet and you save when you use it.

Pure in the can - Pure in the baking

It is reasonable in cost and possesses more than the ordinary leavening strength. You pay less and use less. You get the most in purity, dependability and wholesomeness.

In every way—it is the best way to keep down baking costs. That is what has made it the world's biggest selling baking powder—has kept it the favorite of millions of housewives for more than thirty years.

Good wholesome bakings can be made only of good materials, no other way, so use only good baking powder and good plain flour (not self-rising flour).

Calumet Sunshine Cake Recipe
1/2 cup of butter,
1 1/2 cups granulated sugar, 2 1/2 cups flour, 1 cup water, 2 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 teaspoon lemon, yolks of 9 eggs. Then mix in the regular way.

OUT OF JAIL TILL FIRST OF THE YEAR

While Grover Williams has not completed a term of 60 days in the Madison county jail as a result of having been convicted for bootlegging he is at liberty and will be able to spend the holidays at his home in the southern part of the county. His release was effected after he had furnished bond for $200. He had been informed that members of his family are in serious condition. It was arranged that Williams could spend some time at home as his wife and one of their children are both said to be very ill. Williams had already paid a fine of $100.

EUROPE'S DROP IN BIRTH RATE CAUSES SCARE

Condition More Vital Than Another War—Or Than Ten Others.

YELLOW SPECTER IS SEEN

United States Looked To as Savior With National Decay as War's Aftermath—Middle Class Most Affected—Babies Fewer in Germany.

London.—"Well, it's not my funeral," said the sprucely dressed young Englishman with a collar of pre-war glossiness, reading out the following paragraph in the corner of a London club: "The birth rate per 1,000 persons living in England and Wales in 1918 was 17.7, as compared with 34.1 per 1,000 in the ten years 1851-60. The rate in Cheshire is only 19.9 per 1,000, and that in London 16.1. The end of the war shows no check in what is really national suicide.

"It's not my funeral," he repeated. But it was. It was not only his funeral, but perhaps the funeral of a race. "D—n posterity!" said the Irishman. "What has posterity ever done for me?" The European is saying the same. This is no scare. It is a fact. It is more vital than another European war—or than ten others. It is more mortal than the influenza. It is more dangerous than an anarchist bomb in every street. For Europe, it is the only thing that matters.

It is a very old world. Here in London at election time we run two giant ladders side by side up the face of one of our tallest buildings. As the results come in, the figures on the ladders, representing the Liberal and Tory parties, race each other up the building. Rearing their height over Europe's weary, war worn masses, two ladders are seen today. On one is the figure of death. On the other, the figure of a little rosy child, death racing against life. And death is winning.

"The End of the Race." "The End of the Race," a current cartoon, shows Europe's last baby in the year 2,000. A halo is shown about its wizened head. Its bones show through its tortured skin. It is surrounded by adoring millions of aged Europeans of both sexes, the last of their race. It is only a cartoon. But—

In the death that comes in the roar of a gun and the crash of a shell we have forgotten the death of the great silence.

Twenty years ago France used to be held up as Europe's horrible example—France, the country where, after America, the baby was left. There are those who say today that the war has completed what the French nation began. There are skilled sociologists who believe that France, once the glory of the old world, is dying—dying because she refuses to live. Patriotism and pride keep closed the mouths of her great men. But is not today's Europe a greater France?

Except in this one thing figures can be made to prove anything. But the mathematics of birth and death are inexorable. There is no room for doubt.

Europe, to use a pungent Americanism, is "on the toogogan." There are omens as portentous and inevitable as that sinking feeling before seasickness. "Bonuses for babies" is Europe's. Here in England we have already raised that S. O. S. France tried it and failed. Will Europe?

The above applies to all classes, but to the middle class it comes with a full intensity.

Middle Class Most Affected. While, with better conditions, a falling death rate among the working classes has during the last 30 years to some extent compensated for a falling birth rate, the accentuated fall of the middle class birth rate has no falling death rate of any kind to compensate. A prominent medical man has just written in the Times: "What we are witnessing is the death of the middle class." Upon the coffin of that class will be inscribed the epitaph: "A class that died because it could not live." Not because it would not, but because it could not. Are we going to see Europe given over to the working class? And then?

The once great middle class, in its last struggle for survival, will be forced into one of two things; either to sell out and go over bodily to organized labor, or to form a European middle class trade union, both for offense and defense. It will say to Europe: "If you want doctors, lawyers, clergymen, you must pay for it, or we won't serve you."

But Europe, alas! is beginning to do without the clergyman. The state lawyer is beginning to supplant the private practitioner. Only the doctor is left, and he, poor devil, is being nationalized under national health regulations.

Here in England the middle class family of four or five has become two or three. Medical men, without exception, are united in their opinion that during the past ten years the birth rate of that class has been going headlong to perdition.

HARKNESS ESTATE TAX MATTER AGAIN

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 14.—Holding that the Harkness tax agreement entered into in 1916 "amounts to a legal fraud" County Judge F. A. Bullock set it aside.

Should his decision be sustained by higher courts, Kentucky will receive $500,000 more in inheritance taxes, and Fayette county $400,000 more, it is estimated. The state claims that the five-year inheritance tax should be paid on all of the Harkness estate of $69,000,000 value, instead of on $20,000,000, the basis of the agreed assessment.

"The difference between the amount paid by the Harkness estate is so vast, as shown by subsequent events," Judge Bullock ruled, "that the result itself indicates a concealment so great that it amounts to a legal fraud. Had this court been aware of the facts disclosed in this record, it is needless to say the judgment complained of would not have been entered."

YOUTHFUL PRISONER HAS WONDERFUL VOICE.

There is a young man apparently 21 in the Madison county jail, said by those in a position to know, to possess a rich tenor voice that would attract the attention of many throughout the land. He is serving time as a result of a violation of the federal laws. Unconscious apparently of the quality of his voice he joined in singing Saturday morning when special religious services were being conducted at the jail, and his voice immediately attracted the attention of all who heard him whereupon he stopped. He has a wonderful, rich, clear voice of a very high pitch. When asked about himself, he replied to a Daily Register representative: "You have treated us fine so far, please don't say anymore."

Should Be Quarantined

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—the sooner one rids himself of a cold the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold. BEND

There are a great many hunting parties in these parts. It is said the quality of the fur is better than it has been for years especially of coons.

Will Hill has a most remarkable dog. Every other night this dog goes and puts a coon up a tree and remains by it until morning when his master goes and gets it. This dog seems to know when the fur is best. The only trouble with this dog at present is he is getting aged. But he seems to be good for several seasons yet.

You want a Battery that fits

"You're right. You can't put a short, fat battery into a long slim box in your car. Then you want a battery with terminals that will shake hands like old acquaintances with your car's wiring terminals.

"But the main thing is to give you a battery with the right capacity to work in harmony with your car's electrical system. Your cutting-in-speed counts—that's the speed at which your generator begins to do business—and the number of amperes it feeds into the battery. Those are just some of the conditions your battery must work under. What it all means is that you want a battery of the right capacity to digest the current fed into it and to handle its work without strain.

"We have EXIDE batteries in all sizes and type to replace batteries of all makes. But we won't sell a battery if your old one is repairable. No matter what its make, if its plates are still sound enough, we'll rejuvenate and guarantee it."

If your battery needs recharging, phone 428—we call for and deliver your battery. We also have rental batteries for use while yours are being recharged or repaired.
